IN NORTH TOPEKA

Wet Weather Causes Depression in Sidewalks.

Shawnee Bank Burglar Alarm Causes Excitement.

Recent rains have caused a number of newly laid sidewalks on the North side to sink. The walk in front of the No. 1 fire station near the south side of the building has sunk several inches in one place. Near the corner of North Kansas and Norris street a recently laid piece of walk has also been depressed by the damp weather.

Alarm Causes Excitement.
The burglar alarm at the Shawnee State bank building was set off Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, causing considerable excitement in the vicinity by the constant ringing of a large gong located on the south side of the building. It was ten minutes before 9 o'clock before the bank officials arrived at the bank and disconnected the current. The cause of the alarm's going off could not be ascertained, but it is thought possibly that due to the damp weather one of the many electrical wires, which make up the delicate apparatus became short circuited.

B. Y. P. U. Officers.
The new officers of the Senior B. Y. P. U. society of the North Topeka Baptist church are as follows: Presdent, Clyde Stockwell; vice-president, Ethel Hanna; secretary, Elizabeth Schenck; treasurer, Chas. Williams. The officers will form an executive committee and appoint the chairman of the other committees of the society at a meeting to be held soon.

A Wedding of Interest.
A marriage, which will be of interest to residents of North Topeka on account of the bride being well known and having many friends on the North side, was solemnized Thursday, June 10th, in Hot Springs, Ark., when Mrs. C. B. Cunningham and L. J. Weatherwax were wedded. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Weatherwax left for an automobile trip to Detroit, Mich. Mr. Weatherwax is in the real estate business in Glenwood, Ark., where he and his bride will make their future home.

SHIP'S CREW ACCUSED

Tradition of Set Trampled Down in Sound Collision.
New York, June 14.—C. K. G. Billings' steam yacht, Vanadis, reached Glen Cove, Long Island, early today with the body of John J. Brown of Boston, one of the two victims of a collision in Long Island sound last night between the yacht and the big White Passenger steamer, Bunker Hill of the Metropolitan line. The body of the Metropolitan George H. Kendrick, also of Boston, was brought back to New York by the Bunker Hill when she returned earlier in the night with a hole in her side 30 feet high and nearly 20 feet long.
Stories told by some passengers regarding the behavior of the Bunker Hill crew await official inquiry. It was said that some of the negro deck hands rushed for the lifeboats and refused to surrender their places. The coroner at Glen Cove began an inquiry soon after the Vanadis' arrival.

SPEND $20,000

Work on East Side Sewer to Start August 1.

Over 20 Miles of Drainage Ducts to Go In.

WILL REACH ABOUT 7,000 LOTS

Accommodate Approximately That Number of People.

It Will Require a Year to Complete the Work.

W. H. Wasson, city commissioner of finance, irked his fellow members of the board of city commissioners, and incidentally came near causing a clause in the abstract of city bonds, amounting to approximately $210,000, to read in a way which might have impaired their market value. The final result was that action on the resolution providing for the construction of sewer for the east part of the city was postponed to an adjourned session of the commission being held this afternoon.

Wasson raised a question over the fixing of boundaries for the sewer district. He had no fault to find with the boundaries as described in the resolution and ordinance, but explained that he merely wished to be certain that no mistake was being made and that he thought it would be well for the members of the city commission to take a trip over the territory before voting. Mr. Wasson and the other members of the city commission had already approved the boundaries as described, by voting in the affirmative at a meeting of the commission last Thursday. The other members of the city commission thought Wasson somewhat belated in raising an objection today and thereby causing a delay in the necessary legal publication of notices. They wish to have the benefit of as much summer weather as possible for construction work and also to be able to have the first assessment certified on the next tax roll to the county clerk. To do the latter the city will have a race with time even with all unnecessary delays eliminated. "I have been over that district many times and know it thoroughly," replied Tandy.

"I know it like a book," said Frank Newland, city commissioner of water and lighting.

"No use for me to go over it again," volunteered W. L. Porter, city commissioner of parks. "I have been there a plenty."

"And it's no use for me to go, for I would know no more about it after I had been over the district than I do now," said Mayor House, with a glance in the direction of Wasson which would have been grounds for Wasson to have pleaded self defense in shooting. Had it happened in Dodge City forty years ago.

Roll Call Is Ordered.
The mayor ordered the roll called. Newland, Tandy and Porter voted in the affirmative. When Wasson's name was called and Wasson did not vote, Mayor House discovered he was in a parliamentary tangle, and explained that he had not understood that Wasson desired to delay the taking of a vote. Wasson replied that the ordinance had already received a majority vote without his presence.

Miss Etta Corvill, city clerk, then spoke up.
"Pardon me, Mr. Wasson, for suggesting it, but you know that in your capacity as commissioner of finance the responsibility rests with you to market the bonds. Do you wish it to appear in the abstract of the bonds, which you will have to sell, that you voted against their issuance?"

"I think it should go in the records that Mr. Wasson voted either yes or no," spoke up Porter.

By mutual consent the motion to give final passage to the ordinance was withdrawn and the matter was adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon to give Wasson time to catch up with the other commissioners in their knowledge of the exact state of the proposition. Mr. Wasson was taken over the territory by A. R. Young, city engineer. The other commissioners declined to accompany Wasson to the grounds that they already had all the information needed.

In proceeding to the construction of the east side sewer, the city commission is acting on its own volition, but on an order issued by the state board of health, December 28, 1914. The commissioners have planned to let the contract August 1.

The territory will be the largest ever included in one district in the city. Were the sewer stretched out in one line it would be more than twenty miles long. It will cover the eastern side of the city from Washington street eastward between the Kansas river on the north and the city limits on the east and south. There are 7,000 city lots in the district and approximately the same number of persons. A year will be required to complete the work.
